Word Worlds

Two interpretations | A change in the air

Version A: The wind howled through the deserted town.

Version B: The wind whispered through the sleepy town.

My thinking

The word howled suggests a stronger, more worrying wind. Another reader might picture it differently.